Miller Manufacturing Company Continues Operations as an Essential Business

With yesterday's "Stay at Home" order from Minnesota Governor Tim Walz, we want to reassure our customers that Miller Manufacturing will continue operations during this difficult time as an Essential Business performing work that is vital to the production or distribution of Food and Agricultural items critical to the raising of live animals and products essential to the raising of animals for food.

As our nation and the world comes together to slow the spread of COVID-19, all organizations must do their part. By continuing our manufacturing operations we continue to serve vital industries and our country while supporting the economic recovery.

As a proud Minnesota company, our top priority is the health and wellbeing of our employees. With that in mind, we are following recommendations from the CDC to create a clean and safe environment for our team as we continue manufacturing and distribution operations during this ever-changing situation.

As Governor Walz said yesterday, "We'll get through this together."

Thank you for support.

Sincerely,
